ROBERT MORRIS, by his attorney
THOMAS MORRIS, l s
DONE at a full and general treaty, of the Seneca Nation of Indians held at Genesee, in the county of Ontario and State of New-York, on the fifteenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven, under the authority of the United States.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year aforesaid
JERSE WADSWORTH, l s

PURSUANT to a resolution of the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, passed the eleventh day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one, I have attended a full and general treaty of the Seneca Nation of Indians at Genesee in the county of Ontario, when the within instrument was duly executed in my presence by the Sachems, Chiefs and Warriors of the said nation, being fairly and properly understood and translated by all the parties of Indians concerned, and declared to be done to their universal satisfaction, I do therefore certify and approve of the same.

WM. SHEPARD.

Subscribed in
NATHANIEL HOWELL.

NOW BE IT KNOWN, That I John Adams, President of the United States of America, having seen and considered the said convention or Treaty, and being satisfied that the investment of the money therein mentioned, has been made conformably to the intention of the said convention or treaty, DO by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, accept, ratify, and confirm the same, and every clause and article thereof.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed to these presents and signed the same with my hand.

DONE at the City of Philadelphia, the eleventh day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the twenty second.

JOHN ADAMS.
By the President of the United States.
TIMOTHY PICKERING,
Secretary of State.

Translated for the Argus from French papers by the Vidoria.

BOURDEAUX, Feb. 9.
We are assured General Berthier is to enter Rome on the 15th current, and that the Pope is embarked for the Isle of Malta.

General Kleber commands the right wing of the army of England, which extends from Calais to the mouth of the river Elbe. A body of French and Dutch troops are also assembling at Flushing.

The Diamonds the Queen of Portugal sent to England to sell to the value of £35,000 sterling, are now at Amsterdam for sale.

The Executive Directory will only have done things by halves in persuading the Government of Hamburg to shut their Port against the English vessels, as well as the two other Hans Towns, if they do not also prevail on the King of Denmark to shut the Port of Altona against them which is opposite to Hamburg, on the Elbe.

Thirty members will meet at Basle on the 10th inst. and form a new Constitution. A chain of posts is now formed from Ostend, quite to the extremity of Dutch Flanders. Every post has a signal of communication. The same measures are also taken on the Batavian frontiers, as also from Luxembourg to Treves.

MADRID, January 23.
We continue to experience a great want of many articles, which is the more distressing, as the People suffer most by it.

As yet, however, neither in the Capital nor in the Provinces, do we discover any discontent which can give the Government uneasiness.

LONDON, January 27.
From Coblenz, and every quarter of the Republic, donations to a large amount are continually coming to Paris, to aid the deficit on England.

STUTTGARD, Jan. 24.
The new Duke of Wirtemberg has desired in all public writers, where he and his family are in question, that the vain Titles of "Serene Highness," Royal Highness, &c. shall in future be suppressed, and instead of which to substitute the "servants, of God."

COLOGNE, Phiviole 9.
The king of Prussia has published "that it is not in his power to prevent the French Republic from entering into full possession of his territories on the Left bank of the Rhine."

DUNKIRK, Phiviole 12.
The English are taking our Fishermen. All the flat-boats constructing here and at Offend, are made after the invention of a Swede, and are such as they employed the last war against the Russians. They carry a 48 and a 36 pounder each—as soon as they strike the shore, a suspended bridge immediately drops and forms an easy descent. In the English expedition they will be of singular service.

LYONS.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY.
The Executive Directory, on the report of the minister of general police, having taken into consideration, that the bad disposition which has incessantly prevailed, from the beginning of the revolution, in the commune of Lyons, and which has been the cause of many evils to the republic, still continues to manifest itself;

1st. By the influence of which the chiefs of the companies of Jesus, of the assassins of the South, of emigrants, of deserters and of robbers on the highway, all of whom find in Lyons and its neighbourhood, a sure and inviolable asylum, from the officers of justice, under the protection of cowardly and ill disposed persons.

2d. By the impunity with which crimes of this kind are daily committed; an impunity which arises from the silence of witnesses, and the weakness of the tribunals, subdued by fear with which malefactors are able to inspire them.

3d. By the obstinate refusal of all good citizens to accept public employments there on account of the excesses which are committed, and the attacks which are made, even on the members of the constituent authorities.

Having taken into consideration also, that the commune of Lyons is one of those which has least felt the beneficial effects of the 4th of September, since subsequent to that day new bands of malefactors of every species have renewed their plots, and that recent provocations have been given by the young men to the military.

Having, in short considered, that in so alarming a state of things, it is not by the ordinary powers of the police and administration that the execution of the laws, and the re-establishment of public tranquillity can be produced at Lyons.

Orders, by virtue of the 29th article of the law of the 5th September.

1. That the commune of Lyons, and three suburbs of the Red Cross, of La Guillotiere, and of Vaise, are put in a state of siege.

2. In order to carry this measure into execution, the minister of war will send thither, both in infantry and cavalry, the number of troops necessary.

The minister of general police, and that of war, are commissioned, as far as each of them are concerned, to see to the execution of the present order. (Signed)

BARRAS, President.
LAGARDE, Sec. Gen.

The Members of the Society of the Sons of St. George, established at Philadelphia, for the advice and assistance of Englishmen to desert, are requested to attend an Anniversary Meeting of the said Society, at the City Tavern, on Monday, the 23d inst. at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

NEW-YORK, April 14.

POSTSCRIPT.

Last evening arrived here in 44 days from Bourdeaux, the brig Hudson, captain Fanning.

This vessel is the bearer of further Dispatches from our Envoys at Paris—from their size they must contain volumes of matter.

The politeness of capt. Fanning enables us this day to detail from French papers to the 20th February, which contain several important articles.

Capt. F. informs that just before he sailed, he saw a letter from our Consul at Paris, which mentioned that a motion was made in the Council of Five Hundred for the condemnation of all neutral vessels found with arms on board. The necessity of such a decree is superceded by that respecting English goods, as far as relates to American vessels.

A Bourdeaux paper of Feb. 18, says—"Leonard Bourdon, on his arrival at Hamburgh, ordered the seizure of all English merchandise in that city—all the British subjects to leave the place—and the port to be SHUT against their vessels." This news is now truly confirmed.

The following are extracts from Bourdeaux papers from the 12th to the 20th of February.

BOURDEAUX, February 15.

The troops which were in garrison at Phalzbourg, Haguenau and Weissenbourg, were being off for Strasbourg, to replace the garrison of that city, which were gone into Switzerland.

February 16.

Buonaparte left Paris the 8th of February for the purpose of reviewing the army of England quartered along the coasts—the greater part of the staff officers of that army also went at the same time.

We learn from Hamburgh that Leonard Bourdon, had arrived there; but the object of his mission was not known. Roberiot was also expected.

Lord Gower, Envey from the Court of London to Berlin, arrived there the 22d of January.

The latest intelligence from Constantinople informs, that the Grand Seigneur, was greatly alarmed at the rapid march of a formidable army, commanded by Passowand Ogion, against Adrianople.

Citizen Faypout, Representative of the French Republic, to the Ligurian Republic, has been sent to Rome.

The Frankfort Gazette, contains a proclamation from the King of Prussia, by which it appears he will deliver up his possessions on the left bank of the Rhine.

Gen. Schamburg, inspector of the infantry at Strasbourg is appointed Commander in Chief of the army on the frontiers of Switzerland—He is to act only on the defensive, and to support the efforts of the patriotic Swiss, who are placed under the protection of the French.

All admiral Jarvis's fleet had left Lisbon in search of the Spanish fleet, which it was thought had failed for the protection of a large convoy expected from South America—two vessels of which had escaped the vigilance of the British, and arrived safe.

February 18.

The privateer l'Orient had captured and carried in there, the ship Phoenix, of Baltimore, bound to Bremen.

The American ship Madison, going from Cadiz to Rotterdam, had also been carried in there by the privateer the Reguine.

It is expected gen. Buonaparte will remain on the coast of La Monche 5 or 6 weeks. His lady was to remain at Paris.

Sarlat has been declared in a state of siege by the Executive Directory—adjutant general Vignes is invested with the command.

Letters from Coblenz inform, that the general of division, Thureau, who had hitherto served in La Vendee, had been appointed to the command of all the troops between the Lahn and the Rhine—He had fixed his head-quarters at Neuwied. This general has marched several corps, with a sufficient quantity of artillery, to the environs of the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein. We expect he is commanded to attack that place.

February. 20.

The Commune of Beziers was put in a state of siege, at the same time with Montpellier; Capt. Beaupassin commands there. Letters from Cadiz dted Jan. 22, infered in the Gazette of Madrid, say, that they expected the arrival of the French Admiral Bruys, with the squadron of vessels from Venice and Toulon. It is said that he is destined to facilitate the going out of Admiral Messard, who means to go to Brest. The united naval forces, it is said will amount to between 70 or 80 vessels of the line. The warlike preparations of Russia and the military dispositions at Austria in Gallia, appear to announce the cessation of good understanding between those two imperial courts.

Multitudes of emigrants are debarking on the banks of Loire, and spread themselves in La Vendee.

It is false, that the Minister Scherer, is appointed Ambassador at Constantinople.

NAPLES, Jan. 12.

The Prince of Castelcicala is succeeded in office as Minister of Foreign Affairs by the Marquis de Gallo, who bore so active a part in the Congress at Udina.

ROME, Jan. 14.

The Pope is so very ill, that his life is despaired of. He has been seven days without an audience with his ministers.

BOLOGNE, January 16.

On Sunday last, 500 French troops arrived here from Ferrara—and yesterday commenced their march towards Emilia. There are small detachments continually passing on their way to the headquarters at Rimini. We learn that the commander in chief of the German forces, is to send 20,000 troops towards Rome. We are informed this week, that the headquarters of Balthier, general in chief, are to be fixed here.

VIENNA, Jan. 8.
JEWS turning CHRISTIANS.
It is certain that all the Jews established in the States of the Emperor, have agreed to celebrate their Sabbath in future on Sunday.

BOSTON, April 9.
FROM LISBON.
Capt. Lafay and Ruffell, arrived at Marblehead on Friday from Lisbon, in 40 days. The verbal intelligence by them is,

That the Spanish fleet, of 27 sail of the line, under Don Maffera, had sailed from Cadix, were out three days, and had returned into port. That Lord St. Vincent, with 11 sail of the line, and Sir John Orde, with 6 sail, were at sea, but had not effected a junction; or fallen in with the Spanish armada.

That the report at Lisbon, was that the American Extra Envoys, at Paris, were to leave France, the latter end of February; and that twenty French privateers had been brought into Lisbon, by English and Portuguese vessels, during the time they were at that port.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, April 16.

The merchants, underwriters and traders of this city, will meet at the Coffee-house to-morrow, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of presenting their Address to the President of the United States.

The reports in circulation this day, respecting the receipt of dispatches at the Secretary of State's office, from our Envoys in France, are void of foundation,—no dispatches having been received.

A new edition of Jacobin lies is now running through the Aurora.

Publicity is all the cry with the anti-American-gallic faction; when they suppose or know that disclosure involves a dereliction of all principle—but, publicity which exposes the conduct of their employers in its true colors, is an abomination that their foul hatches.

The anti-American-gallic faction have long pursued the same course that the Tories did at the commencement of the American revolution. The Tories represented this country as divided, to do the gallic faction. The Tories said the people considered the interest of Great Britain and that of America, as the same; the gallic faction have gone further, and told the French that the people of the United States would sacrifice their own interest to that of France.

The parallel might be pursued to a great length; but the above are sufficient. Their fate will doubtless be the same with that of their predecessors the Tories.

It is not known that the United States have a press in France devoted to the cause of this country, but that France has presses in the United States devoted to her interest is a well known fact. This is not fair play; the French papers in this country ought to be silent, till we get one at least established in France.

The public are congratulated on the firmness and consistency of the Aurora man. It was feared by some, from the allusions to a providence in a late number of the Aurora that like his countrymen the French he would assume for a time at least, an appearance of candor and friendship to the United States, in order to wheedle and deceive. From this apprehension we are however fully relieved by his Neslor and Sidney, publications which contain a repetition of the vile falsehoods that have so long abused the public.

M. LYON:
Extract of a letter from Connecticut, dated April 9.

"He wrote to Capt. Chittendon, his uncle by marriage, covering some of BACHES' PAPERS. The first letter the old gentleman despatched and destroyed. Yesterday he received another with its appendances. He immediately enclosed it in a wrapper, with the seals unbroken; and, in the good old fashion of New-England, quoting a very pertinent text of scripture, directed it to 'M. Lyon,' and lodged it in the post-office for Philadelphia. You see how Jacobinism flourishes in Connecticut!"

Extract of a letter from Massachusetts.

"Every man of principle here that used to think of the anti-faction in Congress with some charity now gives them up as reprobates. It has been pretty generally said, the party was not to be much regarded for if danger should arise, they will unite, and the anti will prove as forward and zealous to support the government and to stand up boldly for the honor of the country as the Federalists. It has ever been so, they have added in England. If Mr. Jefferson were President and his friends in office, they would not dissolve the braces and ties of government, for they love power more ardently, and are higher toned and more used and inclined to dominate than the federal party. But the late most extraordinary conduct of the French faction has blasted them as men and as patriots; and every reflecting man, every man that loves his country and its liberty thinks of them with dread and abhorrence. Their attempt to repeal the Stamp act is well understood; and considering the time and the circumstances of the measure, it looks exceedingly as if the party wished to see few whilky poles erected against the laws. The eternal boast of the Virginians that they obey the laws agrees very ill with the obvious tendency and design of that repeal. And now in the name of our dear country, let the Virginians ask themselves, and may kind heaven put it into the hearts of their constituents to ask, why do you oppose government at this time, when firm united counsels are so necessary? Is it vain to say, government is wrong, yet to destroy it and the country by division and untimely opposition is not the duty of any honest man who thinks wrong measures have been pursued.

When the first Congress had independence to gain, such an opposition as the Virginians now make would have left that invaluable blessing. It was then won by union, and is again brought into danger by the encouragement their factious opposition has given the French to invade it.

We are told that the people of Virginia are at least as well disposed as their members, and that they have scores of men at home who will not serve in Congress as respectable as the most respectable of their delegation; a pity they will not come forward and crush the serpent of faction which has stung our peace. If truth should make its way in that state our affairs might be retrieved, our union preserved and foreign foes repelled. That state has already sent some federal and very excellent members, who love America better than France. But however our respected sister Virginia may finally act, rely upon it the northern states are firm and resolved to support the government. In the hour of real danger, our noisy Jacobins would shrink into hiding places. They are few in number, poor in spirit as well as in purse, blabbed in private character and held in derision and contempt even by the common people.

The general hope and expectation is that some few anti-members may be found even yet sensible to patriotism, and though it is now the eleventh hour, it is not too late to renounce the principles of the party which they cannot pursue any further without plunging into the wide yawning pit of destruction. The citizens of Virginia too, though a sudden people and open to violent impressions yet they have a bottom of good sense and attachment to the union and constitution. They will surely change their politics and their members as soon as the awful hazard to which we are at this moment exposed in consequence of the opposition of their leaders shall be duly examined and considered. If indeed the state of Virginia fights and fights to be a French colony, if the weary of independence, and willing to see French commissaries arrive to give the plantations and the white girls to the blacks, if Monroe's project of loans and taxes on Americans to supply the French treasury, should suit better than a stamp act to furnish our own, why then farewell, dear sister Virginia, we have mistaken your character."

HARTFORD, (Conn.) April 9.
Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Windham, to his friend in this city.

"Tom Paine's superior sagacity lately discovered that the Bible is full of lies—his disciple Quixote, by a like sagacity, more recently discovered that President Adams' Book is full of the principles of Monarchy and Aristocracy—What a pity 'tis our democrats do not better agree with their sweethearts in France!! When republican ideas were at their height in that regenerated country, their hell-men read this same Book and imbibed its principles with avidity—translated it into French—sketched its whole principles in 20 introductory pieces, that those who should not read the whole, might yet become acquainted with the outlines of so excellent a work—and, finally, pronounced it the best treatise they had found on the subject of genuine republicanism. But as our democrats follow the clue of their transatlantic brethren with the utmost fervor in every other respect, who knows but they may soon in this."

Holt, the New-England Bee, having been hardly pressed about some of his Jacobin tricks lately, by Mr. Springer, has adopted the common way with his clan to extricate himself, viz: by wearing. He has assumed, which means the same thing as wearing, that he has no connection with Greenleaf, and does not give away his papers. If Jacobins can get out of terrors by wearing, they will forever go clear. There is only one defect in that mode of doing the business—Nobody believes them.

JACOBIN MODESTY.

The Jacobins who met in Hartford a week or two since, formed a nomination, which their emissaries are scattering all about. I have seen one of them in the hand writing of one of the candidates, in which the first names after Mr. Colt's, which is placed at the head, are Gideon Granger, jun., Alexander Wolcott, Ephraim Kirby, and William Judd. These good men were all in town, on the week when the club met. Perhaps they bluffed, and agreed to let themselves up. This is as modest as opening other peoples letters.

To the Free-men of Connecticut.

You will this day, have to give in your votes for 18 persons, for a Congress Nomination. It is a matter of great importance, that you choose such persons, as will not betray your interests. We have seven members already in Congress, men of the best characters and abilities. Great pains are taken, in the first place to make you change them for others. What is the difficulty with them? They are all native citizens, with whom we are acquainted. They are men of the first reputations. They are not demagogues, nor speculators, nor men of desperate fortunes. They are lovers of peace, and have every thing at hazard, in case of a war. Who are the men set up in opposition to them? Look over the nominations which the Jacobin Club that met at Hartford, on the 20th of March made out, and have circulating. Who are set up in them? First, a member of Congress, just to blind your eyes. But look at the next row names. Are they such men as we want? I need not answer. Every one knows them. They are all four LANS' speculators, head and ears deep; and that is enough. Besides, when we reflect on their situations, will you not ask, why they are pushing so hard to get into the office, which other men, at least as good as themselves, hold. Without your votes from men who take such measures to procure their own election. Put them down to the bottom of the hill where they belong. SOCRATES.
